41 Naval Reservists Die In Crash Of Cargo Plane

Thousands of Reds Move Up To Front

SEOUL (AP)—Thousands of Chinese infantrymen supported by tanks and field guns today swarmed recklessly southward in daylight as the Communists boldly beefed up troops which smashed through the Kumsong Bulge this week.

Even as Allied air spotters watched Red infantry stream across the Kumsong River, three South Korean divisions moved cautiously northward over ground given up in the mighty Communist onslaught.

There was no indication whether the big Red buildup signalled new attacks or was a frantic effort to hold newly-won positions.

Heavy fighting broke out east of the Kumsong Bulge as the Communists slammed about 4,000 men against South Korean and American positions on the Eastern Front.

Reds Hit 3 Hills

One North Korean regiment—about 2,500 men—struck three hill positions northeast of the Punchbowl, about 15 miles east of the Bulge, in a co-ordinated assault backed by 30,000 rounds of artillery and mortar fire, the Eighth Army said.

In a fierce 3-hour fight, the ROKs drove back the assault force and killed or wounded an estimated 977 Reds, the Army said.

Infantrymen of the U. S. 45th Division smashed back two 70-man Red attacks on Christmas Hill.

Waves of Allied planes strafed and dive bombed the Red troops as they openly crossed the Kumsong on bridges or forded the river.

Sabre jets escorting other fighter-bombers on sweeps over North Korea shot down two MIGS, the Air Force said.

Heavy trucks rumbled through the shallow water, apparently oblivious to Allied planes overhead.

The Fifth Air Force reported that the bulk of 235 sorties flown up to noon were against targets south of the Kumsong where it joins the Pukhan River.

45 Tanks Sighted

One South Korean unit said 45 Russian-built T34 tanks were operating in its area but American officers said the estimate was high.

Still, frequent spottings confirmed reports the Communists have concentrated more tanks in the Kumsong Bulge than in any one sector for two years.

There was no indication the Reds were willing to risk much of their precious armor south of the Kumsong, however.

Associated Press Correspondent Forrest Edwards reported air spotters saw many tanks in the open along the Kumsong, but there were few indications the Reds had more than a token force—if that—below the river.

Meanwhile, the slow South Korean northward push that has regained up to 5½ miles in three days ran into its first stiff opposition.

Some 700 Chinese counter-attacked in the pre-dawn and hurled back the ROKs from four hill positions taken originally against little resistance.

But by noon the South Koreans won back two of the hills and were assaulting the other two.

The easing of tight military censorship showed that:

Generally the South Koreans have regained the line they were supposed to have withdrawn to earlier in the week before the mighty 80,000-man Red assault that straightened out the Kumsong Bulge.

SPEED KING—Lt.-Col. William F. Barns, Palos Verdes Estates, Calif., above, piloting a North American F-86D Sabrejet, set a new air record, attaining a speed of 715.7 miles per hour. Skimming over the hot beach of Southern California's Salton Sea, the 32-year-old Air Force colonel broke the record of 698.5 miles per hour set last Nov. 19 over the same run by Capt. J. Slade Nash of Edwards Air Force base. Barns broke the old record twice, averaging 713.6 miles per hour on his first try and then coming back a half hour later to beat that mark.

Ike May Request Increase In U. S. Legal Debt Limit

Nation Jumps To $272 Billion In Red After New Borrowing

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower, who found himself carrying the biggest national debt in peacetime today, may ask Congress next week to increase the 275-billion-dollar debt limit.

A six-billion-dollar boost in the debt, resulting from the largest new borrowing since World War II, lifted the debt yesterday to $272,361,259,801.91.

This is just seven billions below the wartime peak of February, 1946, and within three billion dollars of the legal ceiling imposed by Congress.

Officials have predicted the government will have to borrow at least three billion dollars more before Congress, driving for adjournment by Aug. 1, meets again next January.

Congressional leaders adopted a wait-and-hope policy.

No Request Received

Sen. Knowland of California, the acting Republican leader, said he had received no request for action in this session to raise the debt limit and doubted that any would come.

Chairman Millikin (R-Colo) of the Senate Finance Committee said in a separate interview that an increase in the limit had been discussed at White House conferences. But he said no policy decisions had been made on what to do about it.

"We'll have to see what the developments are," Millikin said. "We'll hope that it won't be necessary to increase the limit now."

Sen. George (D-Ga), a Senate Finance Committee member, said that, if the Treasury can get past Jan. 1 without lifting the debt limit, it might be able to go for some time under the 275 billion ceiling.

While a request for a higher ceiling would be embarrassing

H. R. Hamilton Dies; Was Lisbon Merchant

Harry Randall Hamilton, 79, of 338 E. Lincoln Way, Lisbon, proprietor of the Hamilton Dry Goods Store for many years prior to its closing in 1952, died in the Central Clinic at 5:30 a.m. today. He had been ill for two weeks.

He was born in Lisbon May 31, 1874, a son of Matthias and Anna Myers Hamilton. A graduate of Lisbon High School, he also was graduated from Columbiana School of Pharmacy in 1895. He served a term as county deputy auditor in the 1920's and assumed management of the dry goods store after the death of his mother who formerly operated it.

He was a member of the Episcopalian Church and Masonic Lodge No. 65. He also belonged to the National Gun Association.

He is survived by his wife, the former Sarah James, whom he married Nov. 25, 1914, in Sharon, Pa., and one brother, John M. Hamilton of Roanoke, Va.

Funeral esrvices will be held at 2:30 p.m. Monday at the Eells-Leggett Funeral Home, with Rev. Harry A. Barrett and Rev. Paul T. Gerrard officiating. Interment will be in Lisbon Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home Sunday afternoon and evening.

French Girl, 18, Is Miss Universe

Christiane Martel Gets Movie Contract

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP) — The new Miss Universe is a little angel face from France, 18-year-old Christiane Martel.

The brunette charmer from Paris defeated a gorgeous galaxy of contestants from virtually every corner of the globe to win the silver and gold crown last night.

Miss Martel, who openly aspires to a screen career and has had bit parts in three French films, edged out blonde Miss United States, Myrna Hanseh of Chicago, and Japan's diminutive Kinuko Ito. They finished second and third, just ahead of Mexico's vivacious Ana Lepe Jimenez and Australia's Maxine Morgan.

The French lass became the second 18-year-old to win the Miss Universe crown. The first winner, in last year's inaugural contest, was Armi Kuusela of Finland.

"Mais oui!" were the lovely winner's words on winning the award. It's the French equivalent of "Oh, no!" although a literal translation is "But yes."

She posed for photographers for an hour in her brilliant crown, scepter high and smile bright, but finally she had to sit down.

"My feet are killing me," she pouted prettily in French.

Miss Martel had been a favorite

Salem Boy, 14 Is Polio Victim

Gary Painchaud, 14, son of Mr and Mrs. Irving Painchaud of 311 Jennings Ave., is a polio patient in Room 10 of the Olean General Hospital, Olean, N.Y. He is the first Salem person to contract the disease this year.

Mrs. Painchaud and her sons, Gary and Doug, accompanied by Jan Shears, son of Mr and Mrs Harold Shears, went to Franklinville, N.Y., Tuesday to visit Mrs. Painchaud's parents.

Gary became ill Wednesday and was hospitalized Thursday. He is reported to have a mild case and is responding well to treatment.

Jan Shears, who was brought back home, and Doug Painchaud, have been given gamma globulin serum.

Gary, hospital authorities stated, contracted the disease prior to leaving home so the state of Ohio must repay the gamma globulin administered to the children.

$61,529 Still Sought In St. Paul Campaign

The total cash and pledges for the building fund at St. Paul parish now amount to $138,471, according to reports made by workers when they met Friday evening in the school basement.

Contributions of $12,502 have been made since the previous report meeting Wednesday.

Urban Lepping, general chairman, will meet with the workers Monday at 9 p.m. in the school basement, at which time a final tally will be made.

A goal of $200,000 is needed to build a new parochial school and gymnasium. A balance of $61,529 is needed.

Reds Request Another Recess In Truce Talks

Showdown On Allied Demand For Quick Peace Set Tonight

MUNSAN (AP)—A possible showdown meeting of Allied and Communist truce negotiators was postponed for 24 hours today at the request of the Reds.

The recess put off until 2 p. m. tomorrow (midnight EST today) an expected Red reply to reported Allied demands that the Communists sign an armistice now or face the prospect of a breakdown in the negotiations.

The second consecutive 24-hour recess requested by the Reds was arranged during a 1-minute meeting of liaison officers at Panmunjom.

North Korean Col. Ju Yon said the delay was needed for "administrative reasons" and the U. N. quickly agreed, an official spokesman said.

More Time For Decision

The extra day gives the Red high command more time to arrive at what may be a momentous decision vitally affecting the chances for a quick end to more than three years of fighting.

In Washington, Secretary of State John Foster Dulles said Friday night "We are ready for honorable peace" in Korea. At the same time, however, he declared that "If the Communists want war, we must be ready for that, too."

Dulles and Assistant Secretary of State Walter S. Robertson reported to the nation by radio and television on Robertson's efforts to win South Korea's President Syngman Rhee over to a truce and on the recent Big Three foreign ministers, meeting.

Dulles branded as "absurd" a Red demand that the Allies guarantee the future conduct of South Korea.

"I wish that someone would guarantee the future good conduct of the Communist regime of China," he said. "But President Rhee has given explicit assurance that he will not obstruct in any manner the implementation of the proposed armistice."

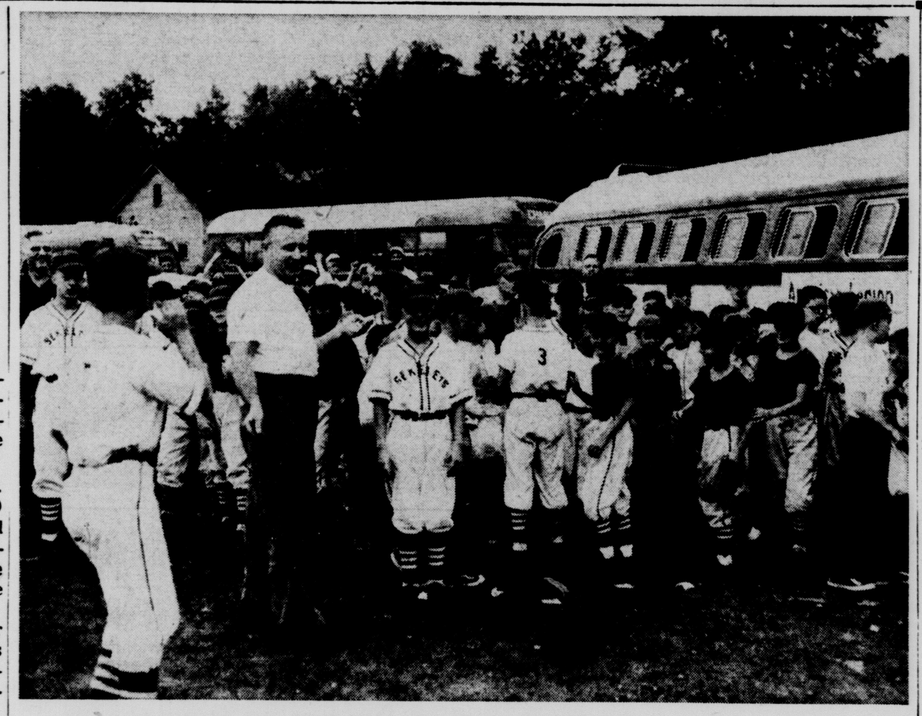

Robertson said the U. N. Command now feels it can in good faith proceed with an armistice and that Rhee will offer no obstruction to carrying it out.

In San Francisco, South Korea's ambassador to Washington said bluntly Friday that if the Communists have not agreed to unify Korea six months after a truce is signed, the Roks will attack

Dr. Youn Chan Yang added at a news conference that "We hope the United Nations will give us air and sea support."

East Berlin Is Armed Camp

Reds Shelve 'Soft Approach' To Strikers

BERLIN (AP)—East Berlin was an armed camp of Soviet tanks and troops today as the Russians and their German puppets shelved their "soft approach" and went over to a terror offensive against the threat of new East German revolts.

Less than a week after martial law was lifted, the elements of two armored divisions clanked back nto East Berlin yesterday. They were dug in today ap,parently for a long stay.

Communist propagandists who had been trilling promises of reform and clemency suddenly changed their tune. They barked warnings that the "Fascist underground" which they blamed for the June 17 workers revolt, is still active. They called for "increased watchfulness" which in Communist jargon means a witch hunt for scapegoats.

A purge was under way in the Communist hierarchy of East Germany. Two menacing developments caused the Communist alarm:

1. Scattered strikes and slowdowns throughout the Soviet zone.

2. Hungry East Germans boiled with resentment against their Communist masters who turned down an American offer of 15 million dollars worth of food relief.

The get-tough policy was designed to frighten the population before they work themselves up to a new open revolt.

Official Western sources confirmed that more than 200 tanks and about 14,000 Russian soldiers have occupied East Berlin, poised to pounce upon the first stirring of rebellion.

Drouth Here Thing Of Past As Water Reservoir Pays Off

By RALPH FRATILA

"Lawn sprinkling banned; air conditioners shut down."

Salem's East Cold Run Reservoir, completed and placed into operation late in 1952, has erased these headlines from print this summer for the first time in a number of years.

Constructed at a cost of more than $1,500,000 the 680,000,000-gallon capacity reservoir, now almost completely filled, is fulfilling its purpose with a productivity and efficiency which have removed all curbs on usage but the cost to the consumer.

Although plagued by shortages for more than a decade, last year's water situation in Salem, complicated by lack of rainfall, well and pump breakdowns, line trouble and the "disappearance" of 300,000 gallons of water from the Stewart Rd. Reservoir early last summer, was perhaps the most critical ever experienced here.

Car washing and lawn sprinkling were banned, use of water by industries was curtailed drastically, air conditioners were ordered shut off, residents were asked to stagger their washdays and to halt all water wastage.

But that's all in the past.

During the first five months of this year, a total of 217,920,000 gallons of water has been pumped from the new reservoir to the city, without an appreciable lowering of the reservoir water level, according to Water Superintendent Aubrey Hayes.

These months include the period which in the past has been characterized by the beginning of water shortages here.

Hayes declared in his last report to Council that none of the city's wells are in use at the present time, and haven't been since last November. Several of the well fields have been shut down, he stated, with the most productive being kept on a standby basis.

That the city will ever have to resort to well water again, he declared, is a very remote possibility.

An important aspect of the city's water situation here is the very low rate of loss which, in many localities, is an ever-present problem. The city's loss during the first five months of this year has been held to a 2.2 percentage of total pumpage, Hayes declared, in comparison to the 10 to 15 per cent loss which is normal.

The city's low water loss, he said, can only be attributed to the efficiency of the water maintenance crews.

Three Slightly Injured In Road Mishaps

Three persons sustained slight injuries in three auto mishaps investigated by State Highway Patrolmen Friday.

A 5-year-old New Springfield boy was treated by a Petersburgh physician after he ran in front of a car on Route 170, two miles north of Route 14.

The boy, Ralph Prine, sustained abrasions of the forehead and thigh, patrolmen said. Driver of the car, Genevieve Biedka, 37, of New Castle, Pa., was not held.

In another accident on Route 14, five miles north of Salem, at 1:40 p.m. Friday, a woman motorist received brush burns when her auto went off the right side of the road and into the ditch to avoid another car.

Patrolmen said the woman, Mildred Affolder, 27, of Davis, W. Va., did not require treatment for her injuries.

In the third mishap, reported by patrolmen today, Dolores Anderson, 23, of 1463 E. 3rd St. was treated at Salem City Hospital for abrasions of the shin and bruised knees.

The accident occurred at 10 a.m. Friday on Route 165, two miles east of Route 62. Patrolmen said the woman's car ran off the left side of the road into the ditch.

She was cited for driving left of center.

Maude Adams, Famed Actress, Dies At 80

Marine Craft Falls On Farm, Bursts In Flame

Dead Are College Boys In Summer Training; Crash In Florida

MILTON, Fla. (AP) — A Marine cargo plane carried 41 young Naval Reservists and crewmen to fiery death when it crashed on a farm and burst into flames after taking off from Whiting Field last midnight.

Charred bodies of the victims were recovered by Navy teams which worked at the grim task throughout the night.

Five other occupants of the 2-engine plane were rushed to Pensacola Naval Air Station hospital, where two were reported in critical condition and three in serious condition.

The plane, transformed into a massive "ball of flames" after plunging into a clump of trees a mile north of the runway, smashed three parked automobiles and plowed into a barn on the farm of Ray Allen.

Bodies Scattered

Harold Stokes, city editor of the Pensacola News-Journal, said that when he arrived on the scene shortly after the crash he found "scrambled, scorched bodies scattered all over.

"They looked as if their clothes were skin tight, stuck to their swollen bodies."

Six survivors were picked up by Navy rescue teams, but one of the men died in the Whiting Field hospital about four hours later without regaining consciousness.

The plane was part of a flight of 55 transports which had made a refueling stop at Whiting. They were ferrying 200 reservists from Corpus Christi, Tex., to Norfolk, Va., for another phase of their 6-week summer training program.

One plane already had taken off for Norfolk after being fueled. The second had cleared the runway and was gaining altitude when it

Legion Defends Its Carnival Sponsorship

Officers of Charles H. Carey Post, American Legion, today defended their actions in sponsoring a carnival on S. Broadway.

Most merchants on the street had protested the carnival's appearance because the street was blocked off between State and Pershing, but the Legion committeemen explained that arrangements were strictly in order. Approval for the showing was given by Mayor Harry Vincent, they said.

Commander Archie Bricker of the Legion said there was nothing unusual about the carnival. "We sponsor it every year to raise funds for our charitable work here in Salem. The rides and amusements are principally for the entertainment of the children."

The Legion he said, feels that yesterday's statement of protests was not all inclusive. One merchant, Bricker pointed out, said the carnival brought new busines to his door.

"What's good for the Legion is good for the city of Salem," the commander added.

Light Rainfall Helps Parched Lawns, Gardens

The first rainfall in Salem in three weeks brought moisture last evening to revive parched lawns.

McCarthy To Continue Probes Without Dems On Committee

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Republican decision to let Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) hunt for Communists without Democratic help threatens to make his committee a major issue in next year's congressional campaign.

Three rebelling Democrats are expected today to send individual letters to McCarthy, saying they will not return to membership on the investigating subcommittee he heads.

From all indications, no other Senate Democrats will accept appointment to the places vacated by Senators McClellan of Arkansas, Symington of Missouri and Henry Jackson of Washington. They walked out in protest when the committee's GOP majority voted McCarthy the sole right to hire and fire staff personnel.

Sen. Dirksen (R-Ill), a member, said if the Democrats want to take that attitude, the committee will go about its business without benefit of minority members.

"I think the committee can function in an orderly and legal way and its investigations will go on just the same," Dirksen said.

As time goes on, he said, the Democrats may face a developing belief on the part of the public that they walked out because they really weren't interested in digging Communists out of government.

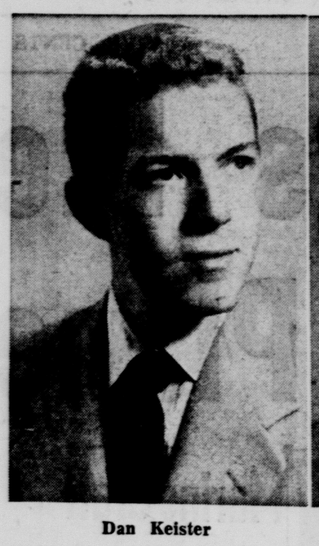

McClellan, who already has drafted a politely curt letter to McCarthy rejecting the Wisconsin senator's proposal that he resume committee membership, said he doesn't think for a minute the country will believe any such thing.

Take Time To Be Holy

Composer George Stebbins made many a hymn immortal

George Stebbins was 2 years old when Gen. Winfield Scott's army marched out of Mexico singing "Bonnie Barbara Allen." Twelve years later, Young Stebbins left his father's farm in Northwestern New York State, attended his first singing school and started the longest career in the history of modern church music.

George Stebbins was in his teens when the Union Army marched to "The Battle Hymn of the Republic." At 23, he was directing music at Chicago's First Baptist Church and selling song books at a music store. At 28, as choir director at Boston's Tremont Temple, Stebbins met Evangelist Dwight L. Moody and started singing for revivals. In New Haven, in 1878, he paused from his singing to write music for Francis Havergal's "Truehearted, Wholehearted." That same year he sang in Providence and composed music for "I've Found a Friend, O Such a Friend."

In the Spring of 1890, George Stebbins read a poem and tucked it away among other papers. The poetry had been written in 1882 by a wealthy Englishman named William Dunn Longstaff after he heard a sermon on the text "Be ye holy; for I am holy." In the Autumn of 1890 Stebbins was singing in India for Dr. George Pentecost when someone mentioned the subject of "Holiness." Searching out the poem, Stebbins set the stanzas to music and started "Take Time to be Holy" around the world. Four years later, in Northfield, Mass., he wrote another tune and "Saved by Grace" was on its way. Of other Fanny Crosby poems, George Stebbins wrote music also for "Jesus Is Tenderly Calling."

The Spanish American War was history in 1907 when George Stebbins wrote the music for Adelaide Pollard's "Have Thine Own Way." While a dizzy world sang George Cohan's "Over There," during the first World War, George Stebbins, now in his 70s, was still writing church music. Came the 20s, the 30s and Pearl Harbor. Back to his native New York State, far up in the Catskills, George Stebbins was an old man.

George Coles Stebbins came in with a war, he went out with a war and he saw three wars in between. Quiet, gentle George Stebbins. While a world in turmoil sang its songs of war, George Stebbins wrote songs to help men find a better way. From his pen came hundreds of hymn-tunes . . . some of the finest in the books. When he died, Oct. 6, 1945, he lacked just four months being 100 years old. He was a musician, a singer and a composer . . . he was not a poet but his music has made immortal many a hymn, like this one that speaks the very sentiment for which George Stebbins gave nearly 90 years of his long life.

Take time to be holy, Speak oft with thy Lord;
Abide in Him always, And feed on His Word.
Make friends of God's children; Help those who are weak;
Forgetting in nothing His blessings to seek.

Take time to be holy, The world rushes on;
Spend much time in secret with Jesus alone—
By looking to Jesus, Like him thou shalt be;
Thy friends in thy conduct His likeness shall see.

Take time to be holy, Let Him be thy Guide;
And run not before Him, Whatever betide;
In joy or in sorrow, Still follow thy Lord,
And, looking to Jesus, Still trust in His Word.

Take time to be holy, Be calm in thy soul;
Each tho't and each motive Beneath His control;
Thus led by His Spirit To fountains of love,
Thou soon shall be fitted for service above.

Concert Violinist To Appear Here

Salvatore Noferi, the self-styled converted concert violinist, and his "singing violin" will appear with his daughters, Mary Louise, Joyce and Betty Sue in a program Wednesday at 8 p.m. in the Assembly of God Tabernacle.

Mr. Noferi, a recording and radio artist, will present a concert of sacred numbers and he will tell the life story of how he became a Christian. Mary Louise plays the piano; Joyce the violin and Betty Sue the cello on the diversified program.

The violinist, who resides in Mt. Vernon, N.Y., formerly was concert master of the Woodlawn Symphony Orchestra of New York. He was the first violinist to appear on television over one of the big networks. Rev. Clarence Hahn invites the public to the performance.

Rev. H. B. Winn To Participate In Flying Seminar To Holy Land

Rev. Harold B. Winn, pastor of the Salem Friends Church, will be among 75 persons of all denominations who will participate in the fourth annual Flying Seminar to Bible lands which begins Saturday, July 25, at Winona Lake School of Theology and terminates Saturday, Aug. 29, in New York City.

Two planes will take the group of "Evangelical Christians" as they are called, from Winona Lake to Fort Wayne, Ind., where they will board a Trans World Airlines plane to New York.

From New York they will take a plane to Paris, arriving there Monday. After sightseeing until Thursday in Paris, the group will take a plane to Rome for visits to the Vatican, museums, galleries and other points of interest.

After Rome, Cairo will be the next stop and a full day's excursion is planned to the pyramids and the sphinx. Wednesday, Aug. 5, the travelers will leave Cairo for Beirut, Lebanon, and Friday will drive from Beirut to Damascus, capital of Syria, and the locale of the Street Called Straight.

The drive will continue from Damascus to Amman and Jerusalem and visits will be made to Biblical shrines enroute. Sunday, Aug. 9, will be spent in Jerusalem, with side excursions to Bethlehem and Hebron.

Following a week's stay in Jerusalem, the seminar will leave Sunday, Aug. 16, for Nazareth A Galilean service will be held from a boat on the Sea of Galilee and the tour later will be resumed through the Plain of Sharon to Tel Aviv and Haifa.

The Tel Aviv tour will conclude Monday, Aug. 17, and the group will leave Lydda Airport Tuesday, and arrive in Athens in the afternoon. Ancient and modern Athens will be explored until Friday when the group will leave for Geneva.

The League of Nations buildings will be visited and the tour will continue along the shores of Lake Geneva by way of Lausanne to Montreaux. Saturday, Aug. 22, and Sunday will be spent at Interlaken.

A trip will be taken Monday over the Brunig Pass to Lucerne and on to Zurich for the night. Tuesday, Aug. 25, the travelers will take a plane out of Lucerne for London and after a stop there until Friday the plane will ave for New York City, arriving Saturday, Aug. 29.

A documentary film covering the highlights of last summer's Flying Seminar may be secured by addressing Department C, Box 7, Cambridge, Mass.

Besides ministers and laymen, the Flying Seminar is patronized by students who are working for 10 hours of graduate credit.

Confident Living

By NORMAN VINCENT PEALE

How To Find Relief From Tension

The people of England now consume ten million aspirin tablets a day—so says a news dispatch. And an English doctor, commenting on this, called his country, "a nation which is sick and tired."

Dr. Peale

But we on this side of the Atlantic seem to be even more sick and tired. Our daily intake of aspirin is forty-two million a day, according to Dr John C. Krantz, Jr., of the University of Maryland. Dr. Krantz attributes this to the pace at which we live. "In the old days," he says, "if somebody missed a stage coach, he was willing to wait around for the next one. Now we swear if we miss a slot in a revolving door."

This tempo of living, so greatly accelerated in our time, inevitably leads to tension—and tension has therefore become one of the major personal problems of people today. A young man in a distant city once got my telephone number and called me to say that he was so tense that, as he put it, he could almost jump out of his skin. He wanted me to help him. Of course, I was sympathetic and made some suggestions.

But I soon found that he was getting into the habit of calling me every time he felt tense; he was leaning on me, transferring his problem to me instead of dealing with it himself. "The only way I can get any relief," he would say, "is to pick up the telephone and talk to you."

THEN, FINALLY, he happened to call me at two in the morning and woke me from a sound sleep. "Look," I told him, "why don't you save money on your telephone bills? Instead of dialing me, why don't you turn to a book that you can keep at your bedside and 'dial' that?"

And then I told him to take his Bible and mark some passages I would give him. "When you get up in the middle of the night and find you can't sleep because of tension, turn to the Book and try these until your tension is reduced," I said.

I had a little difficulty convincing him that this was better than telephoning a human being, but at last I succeeded. He hasn't called me for months, but he has written to say that the most helpful Scripture passage of all has been this from the 46th Psalm: "Be still, and know that I am God."

This is a tremendous truth that can affect you and me just as it did this young man. Just be quiet, it says, and let God's calmness steal over you. Remember that God is here and that He is with you always and can do everything for you. This manner of thinking will show you that there is no need to be upset or disturbed or tense. As you get your mind on God, you will get it off your troubles, your hates, your conflicts, things that cause tension.

THE ONE thing which can bring relief from tension is this God-given stillness. Pascal, the great scientific thinker, said, "One of the ways in which man brings the most troubles on himself is his inability to be still."

We must learn the art of inner stillness. That does not mean inaction in the affairs of life. On the contrary, it does mean that all worthwhile creative activity in life comes from an inner center which is still, at ease and free from tension. Edwin Markham wrote, "At the heart of the cyclone tearing the sky, is a place of central calm." So in our life our mind power derives from a calm center.

You can become a person of driving force and energy, be relieved of tension and lead a healthier life as you master the art of stillness. "Be still, and know that I am God." Say that wonderful sentence to yourself every day.

Was That A Burglar?

Monday, July 13, was one of those days in the U.S Senate which loom large in the Congressional Record, though not in the news.

The only news which came out of the whole day's work was a speech on the conveniently elastic and endlessly controversial subject of McCarthyism.

But as a browser finds if he keeps browsing there was something done in the Senate last Monday that will excite some second thoughts. It had started the preceding Thursday.

Holders of more than half a billion dollars' worth of German bonds once considered so worthless many of them were destroyed by their owners as scrap paper obtained Senate approval for payment in full plus accrued interest at 5½ per cent.

In the same resolution which authorized this curious arrangement for the benefit of persons who kept the once-worthless bonds it was agreed that two-thirds of $2 billion lent to Germany in the form of public money would be written off as a dead loss.

In other words, what taxpayers had advanced for Germany's benefit couldn't be repaid in full, or even in half, but what speculators had invested years ago in the defunct German republic and Hitler's disastrous brand of socialism was still worth 100 cents on the dollar—if the speculators had saved the receipts.

All this filled some 29 pages of The Congressional Record for July 13, 1953. A similarly lengthy exposition had been required on July 9 to explain what was going on. When it was all over, no one could be sure what really had gone on, except someone was going to get more than half a billion dollars plus accumulated interest that no one ever dreamed would be forthcoming—and that U.S. taxpayers were going to get another raw deal.

Budgeting On The Dark Side

Nothing takes the drudgery out of budgeting like an ever-rising income.

The federal government and the states have been enjoying this kind of budgeting ever since the beginning of inflation. There have been times in recent years when federal income fattened up so rapidly it exceeded by as much as 29 per cent the previous official estimates of its size.

There is a strong suspicion that it was planned that way; that income was deliberately underestimated to keep Congress from cutting taxes. Since the excess always was gobbled up by additional spending which thereafter became part of the next budget, inflation boomed merrily along.

Local government, meanwhile, was taking it in the neck, but no one cared about local government. It could appeal to Washington or the state capital if it wanted help. They'd return its tax money, minus a 50 per cent discount for mishandling.

But when inflation quits booming, the dark side of budgeting comes into view. For the fiscal year that ended June 30, the original estimate of federal income was $71 billion. That estimate has been pared down until Sen. Taft estimated the other day it might drop down to as low as $65 billion.

This is one of the main reasons why the federal government is in money trouble. It couldn't balance its budget when it was getting more income than it thought it was going to get. It can't balance its budget when the income is dwindling.

Local government budgeters now can extend their sympathy. If asked, they also could extend their advice: Cut the coat to fit the cloth.

Reds Hold Initiative

The strongest Communist offensive in two years in Korea suggets there may be no further purpose in talking about a truce. The Communists may have changed their minds.

The Kremlin policy which was ended by getting rid of Beria may have been the recent attitude of conciliation. Beria is believed to have been its author.

Word may have gone out to the Chinese Communists that their sponsors in the Kremlin desire a stepped-up pace in Asiatic aggression.

Word may have gone out simultaneously to European Communists that the net result of the purge which started with Beria but which no one expects will end there is going to be a renewal of offensive action.

There is a tendency in the United States to apologize for speculation about these things, as if Americans should not admit that a handful of men in the Kremlin hold the inititative.

These decisions are as vital to American interests as Korean casualty lists which reveal what is happening to American men fighting in a war which their enemies began and apparently can continue to fight on their own terms.

They are as vital as the heavy taxation which underwrites the western world's still shaky ability to withstand the onslaught of a Communist attack on Europe, if that were to be the Kremlin's desperate gamble in the game for survival.

McCarthy Wins Point

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Directive On Books Follows Recommendations

Sen. McCarthy seems to have won his main point in his skirmish with the International Information Administration of the Department of State about books in overseas libraries, though one would hardly guess it from a reading of most of the dispatches out of Washington.

An important part of the text of the State Department's directive of instructions to the custodians of its libraries overseas was not generally printed.

The key point in the controversy has been whether there will be permitted on government library shelves books written by avowed Communists or by persons who — citing the Fifth Amendment against self-incrimination — refuse to answer questions before congressional investigating committees.

Here is the full text of the paragraph as issued by the Department of State on the afternoon on July 15:

"Works of avowed Communists, persons convicted of crimes involving a threat to the security of the United States, or persons who publicly refuse to answer questions of congressional committees regarding their connections with the Communist movement, shall not be used, even if their content is unobjectionable, unless it is determined that a particular item is clearly useful for the special purposes of the program.

"Application of this rule to authors who refuse to testify does not mean that they are presumed to be Communists or Communist sympathizers, but simply reflects the fact that such action by an author normally gives him a public reputation which raises serious questions as to the usefulness of his books in the program.

"This paragraph does not apply to anthologies, other compilations, and periodicals which only incidentally include material written by persons described above, if the writers included in the entire publication are predominantly non-Communist."

That's exactly what Sen McCarthy argued for when he said it was ridiculous to put on the shelves of government libraries abroad books by known Communists or by persons who refused to answer questions, claiming immunity under the Fifth Amendment.

The press instead played up some vague remarks in the lengthy statement issued on Wednesday of this week by the director of the International Information Administration decrying the attacks on the government libraries and its program of information abroad.

Unfortunately, there are some contraditions between the words of the directive quoted above and the action reported by the International Information Administration as having been taken in one instance under the directive

After revealing that "the removal of all works of persons refusing to testify as to Communist affiliations" was ordered on April 23, 1953, and after noting also that on May 13 a message was sent giving specific names and ordering that no books be restored pending a re-examination, an exception was made in the case of Dashiell Hammett.

The State Department's statement of July 15 says: "Instructions accompanying the new directive authorize restoration of books by Dashiell Hammett."

This action is inexplicable. It violates the State Department's own rule, because the author in question certainly now has a reputation not only for refusing to answer a congressional committee but for refusing to answer the questions of a court.

He served a six-month sentence in jail, and the Supreme Court of the United States affirmed a lower court ruling which declared that his claim to immunity had no legal or factual basis.

Hammett was chairman of a bail fund which provided bond money for Communists. When some of them, including Gerhard Eisler, escaped and the court wanted Hammett to identify the bail fund records and the minutes of his organization, he refused to do so on the ground that it would be self-incriminating.

It so happens that Hammett writes detective stories, and it stretches the law to say that the overseas libraries are compelled to spend American taxpayers' money to furnish any entertainment or fiction books to foreign readers.

One explanation for the exception in Hammett's case is that President Eisenhower made a slip at a press conference and declared that Hammett's books must have been removed by somebody who was frightened.

Perhaps the bureaucracy in the State Department, feeling that it must uphold a President's mistakes even if it jeopardizes the integrity of the Department's own directive decided to make an exception and let Hammett's books be restored.

It certainly doesn't put the President in a good light to assume that he would want any such palpable violation of the Department's own rule to save face for a mistake.

Broil Until Done

By TRUMAN TWILL

In good old RFD in the good old summertime. . .

One of those hot July days—humidity left over from all the hot days that had preceded it. The cows are bushed when they come in for the morning milking.

The duck ponds and pig wallows have dried up, with nothing left to show for them but random cracks in the mud-plastered depressions where they had been.

The leaves on the trees are limp and still, as if waiting for something they have despaired of seeing. The curtains in the windows are limp and dispirited.

Heat shimmers above the melting asphalt of the road and glints off the drooping tail feathers of a cock pheasant in a dusty fence corner—with his beak agape to catch whatever air may be stirring.

The tall grass in the pastures looks as if it had been scorched with a giant blow torch. Even the thistles, indestructible as anything ever turns out to be in nature's plan, sag in the direct rays of the relentless sun.

It is not a sun like that of a sunshiny day in June, nor even a sun like the beclouded orb of September, but a sun like the Ancient Mariner's sun — a red omen that glares malevolently on the horizon both night and morning as if saying, "I'll be back before you expect me" and "Here I am again."

It is a sun that sucks up every drop of moisture from the living earth as if determined to leave it dessicated for all time to come. It is a sun that seems bent on a preview of what would happen if some day the earth strayed from its orbit and wandered too close to the eternal flame.

The thin fringe of trees that border the creek seem to be drawing closer together to shield its trickle of water from the encroaching dryness. They are like flutter old ladies trying to hide some culprit who has excited their sympathy.

The animals stand quietly in what little shade they can find, with heads lowered, making their remaining energy go as far toward sunset as they can stretch it. Their silence and immobility are a rebuke to the harvesters in the field, their faded denims dark with perspiration.

The sky, instead of being blue and distant, is gray and hovering closely over the steaming earth whose strength is being rendered out like fat from a carcass.

This would be one of the ways it would happen if it did happen—the end of what may be, for all men know, the merriest and the saddest ball in the universe.

The sun might get too close or it might get too far. Or there might be a celestial collision—barrumph!

For what would happen if the sun gets too far, see this space next January. For what would happen if there is a celestial collision, it wouldn't matter. That the last full measure of devotion is fried stewed, broiled, baked, boiled and steamed out of life in the good old summertime in good old RFD—and twice that bad in the high-rent district.

Slavs Displace Georgians In Kremlin

By ALEC DE MONTMORENCY

A "time of troubles" like that which overtook Russia and nullified her world power shortly after the death of Ivan the Terrible, may again be in the offing with the emergence of "bickering Slavs" as masters of the Kremlin for the first time since 1610-1613.

The first fragmentary reports, which mention other Armeno-Georgian names involved in the spectacular disgrace of the former head of the Soviet secret police, Lavrenti P. Beria, indicate a racial and communal character in the present purge that would hit the Eastern Caucasian cadres left behind by Joseph Stalin.

"Amiable soul" ("Doosha Liubeznyi") is the generic name great Russians derisively give those swarthy Middle Easterners. It is derived from the jumbled-genders greeting Stalin's fellow countrymen use in their broken Russian.

In czarist days they were a marked feature of urban life in Russia. Then they had seemed destined to remain forever the long-suffering targets of stage persiflage—a sort of walking joke.

Had the Romanoffs stayed on the throne, both Stalin and Beria could well have made a good living as burlesque comics.

After the Bolshevik revolution of 1917, however, and especially after the emergence of Stalin as the all-powerful master of the Kremlin, those "darksome foreigners" acquired a sinister renown among the Russians.

Joseph Stalin, who never learned to speak good Russian in his 50-odd years in the country imported scores of fellow Georgians and Armenians (He was Georgian by his father and Armenian by his mother) into Moscow and into other administrative centers of the USSR.

Beria was but one of many. Thousands of others helped him to keep his deadly stranglehold over Russia.

The emotional, unpredictable Russian Slavs can well be abysmally brutal in a fit of passion. But, by and large, according to those who know Russia best, those children of the Steppes are incapable of sustained cruelty.

The Armeno-Georgians, on the contrary—at least those whom Stalin and Beria brought to Russia for police work—appeared well-endowed both with the proverbial Levantine powers of dissimulation and with a remarkable dose of Middle-Eastern sadism.

True, much of the Russians' rancor against Stalin's Armeno-Georgian minions really is due to the unredeemed detestation of Stalin himself—the hairy, short-legged evil-made-flesh whom the voice of the people diversely dubbed "Caucasian Ape."

Nevertheless, the turning, at this stage, of such men as Malenkov, Molotov, and Voroshilov—all great Russians of Slavic ancestry — against Stalin's fellow Georgians does bear the same earmarks of racial animosity as did Stalin's own purges against the Jewist holdovers from Lenin's regime.

The net result of it is that Slavs are in complete control of things in Russia for the first time since 1610-1613.

As long as a score of years ago Russian historians and sociologists exiled in the Western countries predicted that the disappearance of Stalin, by causing the removal of his Armeno-Georgian cadres, would bring Slavs to the fore, and thus cause the same state of anarchy which prevailed in the land before the arrival of the Swedish varangians in 862 A.D.

There have been several reports in Stockholm papers of the increasing sways of great Russians in the Kremlin, at the expense of Georgians and other Asians.

Big Four, Pro And Con

By EDWARD NELLOR

President Eisenhower's closest advisers have a big decision to make within the next few weeks.

Is there any point in promoting a full-scale Big Four meeting?

One of the main reasons the answer isn't "yes" is the unknown factor of American public sentiment.

White House advisers are unsure about public opinion in respect to further powwows involving the Soviet Union's dictation. So far, in the memory of most Americans, nothing but grief has emerged in the wake of full-scale diplomatic discussions among France, Great Britain, Russia and the U.S. heads of state.

Then, too, White House mail reflects a growing dismay over the endless palavers in Korea that have produced nothing but hope and higher casualty lists.

The invitation to Russia for a Big Four conference of foreign ministers on Austria and Germany is merely a curtain raiser.

Even the Pentagon is getting restless. It "floated" a recent news story to the effect that unless the Chinese and North Korean Communists toed the mark on truce talks, "baby" atom bombs would be on the way shortly.

William H. Jackson, head of the presidential commission to evaluate current Soviet intentions, put the first damper on White House consideration of a full-scale Big Four session.

He reported that the Soviet bear had hardly shed a warlike hair, despite the current kindness toward various individuals and some satellite nations.

The second, of course, was the arrest of Lavrenti P. Beria and the ferment in Moscow over his political hatcheting.

Should the Big Three be satisfied with a limited parley, or force the issue with Moscow now for a full-dress show?

And what if Moscow accepts? The Beria question needs international attention, just as the Red rulers need something to take the minds of Soviet citizens and their captive satellites off the problem of Kremlin unrest and food shortages.

What if, in accepting, they simply propagandize and reject Austrian and German settlements?

The foreign ministers, who recently concluded their sessions in Washington, in asking the Russians to sit in on a conference to settle Austrian and German boundary and political problems, revealed in the wording a consensus that Moscow will say "no."

White House advisers know, from previous experiences of the President's predecessors in office, that a meeting of Big Three or Big Four foreign ministers remains largely meaningless, insofar as the average American is concerned.

Only when a Churchill, a Malenkov, and an American President get together does the world pay strict attention.

A foreign ministers' meeting is attractive mostly to the world's diplomats, whose batting score for peace remains in doubt.

Churchill thinks that Moscow is ready for more talk. He has stated that Korean truce talks are proof.

Marshall Tito, ruler of Yugoslavia, and an old hand in he Communist game of world conquest, says that Russia remains the same old bear.

France is eager for help to reduce her arms spending.

Whatever the President and his aides decide will be a pattern for our allies. Thus, the pros and cons are weighed with care in the White House.

Nothing will be decided until Moscow reacts to the request for a Big Four foreign ministers' session.

The next few days may be decisive in hekping the President to make his decision. Whatever it is, the civilized world will respond as it does to nothing else. So presses the weight of world leadership.

Uncle Sam's Search

Wanted — Words that glow; a simple sentence that clicks; a slogan that stirs men's hearts. Party needing these has never been caught short before in his life, but seems to be in a hole today. Wire or write Uncle Sam, Washington, D. C.

Believe it or not, this advertisement could express the curious plight of a nation noted for its winged words, its singing phrases and its punch-line messages.

As a people we have had no equals in turning out the dynamic slogan to sell oatmeal, soaps, soups, floor waxes, candy bars, corn cures or deodorants.

We can produce a ringing phrase for an animal cracker, a salad dressing, a can of beer or a dog food at the drop of a hat, but, when it comes to the tremendously vital job of selling the American Way, we are flops.

There is no other interpretation of the verdict of the President's Committee on International Information, recently filed in Washington after a long inquiry into what's wrong with our information services.

Need a glowing description of a refrigerator, a summer drink, a smoke or a prepared banana pudding? The advertising genius of America will hand it to you fast.

Could you use a walloping sentence to promote sales of an aspirin tablet, a kidney pill, an auto truck or a prune whip? Say the word and it's yours.

But democracy? Freedom? Liberty? The Brotherhood of Man? We ain't got the brains, bub. Or aren't we TRYING?

Our efforts to find a dynamic message, a ringing slogan that will excite and win people haven't get to first base. It seems to us that the advertising specialists of America should accept this as a challenge and swing into action for peace and freedom with the same spark and brilliance with which they always swing into action for a cigaret, an ale, a house paint, an indigestion tablet, or a hair tonic.

How about a prize contest for a free world slogan? The following wouldn't win, but they are better than anything suggested so far:

1.—Join the Freedom March!
2.—The Goal is universal brotherhood!
3.—Hate never pays off.
4.—The helping hand holds no gun.
5.—Freedom's glorious urges, not despotism's purges and dirges!
6.—Let's live together; not die together!
7.—Tyranny is never a bargain.
8.—The only worth-while atomic weapon: atomic faith!
9.—Make it a fight for life and happiness, not for chaos and destruction!
10.—Stop the rush over the abyss and join a climb to the peaks.
11.—You can't shoot your way into human happiness.
12.—Don't buy the wrong bill of goods.
13.—Make this a sure-fire crusade not a long-shot gamble.
14.—We're leveling, not bedeviling!
15.—Don't be a "goat" for a bear!

Not good? Oh, well, not too bad. Anyhow they give you the general idea.

"Beria was dismissed with the approval of the whole Soviet people."—KKremlin announcement. "This is to inform you that you and all the people of Russia have approved the arrest of L. P. Beria, of which you now hear for the first time. He will be given a fair trial by judges who have been duly notified of his unquestioned guilt.

Comrades Malenkov and Molotov could get no sleep while Beria was around. Now that he is out they still can't sleep, but the mutual watchfulness is simpler.

They have both tried counting sheep. Since this is not getting results, prepare for notification that the sheep have been found renegade tools out to restore capitalism.

Salem Couple Is Feted On Anniversary

Married July 16, 1928, Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Bailey of E. Fourth St. celebrated their 25th anniversary at a surprise party in their home Thursday evening.

The party for the former Marian Stackhouse and Nelson Bailey was arranged by relatives and friends including their two children, Nancy, who was graduated from Salem High School this spring and Ben, who is a student at Ohio State University.

Officiating at the Stackhouse - Bailey nuptials 25 years ago was the late Rev. George Beaver, father of Dr. Paul Beaver of Leetonia. Marshall Bailey, brother of the bridegroom, was best man, and Winifred Stackhouse, sister of the bride, was maid of honor for the garden wedding. Winifred is now Mrs. Abbott Crum of California.

The wedding occurred at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Alice Stackhouse, at Green Springs, O. and the minister was then the pastor of St. Jacobs Evangelical and Reformed Church.

When Mr. and Mrs. Bailey were married they lived at Carbondale, Pa., where he was employed by the Fukerson Music House. They moved to Salem in 1933.

Mr. Bailey is a well-known piano-technician here. His wife is fourth grade teacher in McKinley School.

Among the 100 guests at the reception n the Bailey home were people from Salem, Lisbon, Leetonia, Norwalk, Port Clinton and Columbus. The couple was remembered with gifts, and people who could not attend showered the Baileys with cards. A decorated anniversary cake was served the guests.

CLIFTON WEBB and Barbara Stanwyck star in a poignant scene as an international socialite couple whose basic concept of what is worthwhile in their lives finally causes them to separate after twenty years of marriage in a story set against the historic sinking of the Titanic in the Twentieth Century-Fox film, "Titanic," opening Sunday at the State Theater.

One Man's Woe

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—In this world of woe one fellow's troubles often are another fellow's business opportunity.

Owen K. Murphy, a 44-year-old Irish sales genius, isn't the first man to discover this truth. But it has set him on the path to becoming a multi-millionaire as America's mechanical massage king.

The woe that became his particular gold mine was that international disease—tension.

"My idea was simply to find a way to help people relax easily," he said. "I became interested in physio-therapy while I was a pharmacist's mate in the Navy, and decided to make it my field.

"It wasn't easy. My background was engineering, and I had to give up a good engineering sales job I'd held for 17 years, and start all over."

He took a new job in 1946 selling mechanical massage tables to hospitals for the Niagara Mfg. Co. of Adamsville, Pa. Musiness was slower than slow.

Three years later Murphy gambled everything to buy the firm himself at a time when it had only two fulltime employes and was grossing only $10,000 a year.

Using his engineering skill and the knowledge he had gained from consulting medical men, Murphy redesigned the equipment and developed a motor to give a pulsing rotary movement instead of a simple vibration.

"And I decided people offered a bigger market for mechanical massage appliances than hospitals," he recalled. "My theory was that any home that has a refrigerator or a vacuum cleaner also could use a mechanical massage unit."

Murphy put his mechanical massagers in department stores to rest the feet of tired shoppers. He put coin-operated massage tables in roadside rest stops for truck drivers. He got universities and big league baseball teams to adopt them as aids in conditioning sore-muscled athletes.

"Down in Florida they use a unit to keep racehorses in shape," he smiled, "and out west one helped heal a prize bull wtih a pulled tendon."

Among his early customers were such big name entertainment and sports world figures as Marie Wilson, Sugar Ray Robinson, Ralph Kiner, and Noble Sissle, the band leader.

But his real mass market has been the home and office. His 16 models of massagers range from a hand unit for tired housewives to a luxurious massage chair in which the tired business man can stretch out and relax while dictating to his secretary.

Murphy now has a factory in Buffalo, 600 emplayes, and last year grossed three million dollars—about 300 times the firm's income in 1949.

This year Murphy expects to sell 100,000 mechanical messagers (he sold 60,000 in 1952), and take in 4½ million. He is still a bit dazed by success.

"I don't know where it will end," he said. "There is a lot of tension in the world, and—it's an odd thing to say, but true—tension has been our best salesman."

Murphy keeps a massage chair in his own office, and uses it daily

"Have to," he said. "Get all wound up if I don't."

Right now Murphy is pretty tense. All worked up over a new idea. You know how many motorists there are in America? Millions. Millions. Most of 'em tense.

So, how about a mechanica' massage unit for automobile seats? Why can't a driver relax his tension while he's at the wheel?

Funny? Well, most of those who laughed at Murphy in 1949 don't have his bank account today.

GI Charged Slaying 2 Airmen, Hurting 2

SEOUL (AP)—The Air Force filed murder charges today against S. Sgt. Paul M. Redmond, Shavertown, Pa., who is charged with killing two airmen and critically wounding two in a '10-minute reign of terror."

The Air Force said:

"Redmond, allegedly drunk, touched off a 10-minute reign of terror in the small Air Force compound near Taegu at which he was stationed, when he opened fire with a carbine rifle the evening of July 3."

The Air Force brought charges of premeditated murder, attempted murder and assault.

Redmond is being held in Taegu. Formal investigation of the incident is now under way.

The Air Force said Redmond fired 30 rounds from his carbine for no apparent reason. Redmond reportedly professed being unable to remember anything that happened after 8 p. m. the night of the shooting.

The statement issued by 5th Air Force headquarters said a trial date for a general court martial would be set after a pretrial investigation has been completed.

Redmond is charged with killing Airman 2. C. Hugh A. Rhodes, 21, of Tiff City, Mo., and Airman 2. C. Donald C. Schneider, 22, of 301 Gnau Rd., SE., Massillon, Ohio.

Wedding Ring Allergy Not Ground For Divorce

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP)—"I'm allergic to a wedding ring," a wife seeking a divorce told Judge Fred B. Cramer yesterday. "The metal causes my hand to break out.'

The Common Pleas Court judge ruled that was not sufficient ground for divorce.

But the woman succeeded in getting her decree a few minutes later, when she produced witnesses to back up charges her husband had neglected her.

John A. Cross Says Faith Counts In Life

Greenford Man, 81, Has Filled Roles Of Roustabout, Preacher

By AUSTIN BRANT

The phrase, active in politics, sports, religion and writing and still working at age 81, might sum up the life of John A. Cross of Greenford, subscription solicitor for The Salem News since 1937.

Mr. Cross, who was born in eastern Kansas Feb. 26, 1872, and who has lived in Greenford since 1930, has filled up a lifetime participating in all these.

Although seemingly inconsistent, they are all a part of him. And they sum up to interests rather than vocations.

MR. CROSS'S main vocation in life has been the oil business Starting as a pumper and roustabout in the oil fields of Pennsylvania when 20 years old, and working there and in Ohio and West Virginia until he was 31, the octogenarian knew the oil business from the bottom up.

"After 11 years of working for someone else," he explains, "I saved up enough money to buy a well of my own."

And buy wells he did. When the depression hit this country in the early thirties, Mr. Cross had interests in some 50 wells besides an oil country machine shop he owned.

When the depression came it severely hurt his business so he moved to Greenford where he had some small wells producing. Since that time he has sold them and the only oil he has now, he declares, is in his blood.

WHILE PRODUCING oil in the neighboring state, Mr. Cross was elected to two terms in the state legislature in Harrisburg from Butler County, Pa.

He mentions that while running for office he went in as a dark horse in a field of seven candidates. It was quite an upset, he says, when he received the highest vote on the Republican ticket.

Mr. Cross's sports interest has been centered around baseball. He has been a fan of the great American game since the age of 12 and played in semi-professional ball until he was too old to play.

He managed a semi-professional team in Bruin, Pa., for eight seasons between 1903 and 1916 during which time his team won two-thirds of the games played.

In 1904, Mr. Cross relates, Rube Waddell, famous left-handed hurler of the Pittsburgh Athletics, pitched in an exhibition game for his team, striking out 22 batters of a neighboring team.

"The other team had a big league pitcher, too," the avid fan relates, "but we won with Waddell."

Mr. Cross, himself, while managing the team, played catch and outfield until he was 44 years old.

—:—

MR. CROSS'S RELIGIOUS and writing interests have been closely tied up.

He was president of the Butler County, Pa Sunday School Association for two years and for 25 years he has taught Bible classes in Pennsylvania and here.

While president of the association, Mr. Cross did considerable speaking in churches on Bible classes and decided to write a book on the subject.

John A. Cross

His book, entitled "The Bible Class and the Community," sold in many bookstores throughout the country.

The octogenarian is now teaching a Bible class at the Lutheran Church in Greenford together with Ralph J. Dressel.

Mr. Cross also has had a booklet of verses published under the title, "Poems From Life." The booklet, which contains 66 short poems, was printed 10 years ago.

—:—

TWO YEARS AGO, the poet in him got restless again and he wrote two short poems on baseball and sent them into The Baseball Magazine. When the publication accepted and paid him for them they wrote they had never before printed a line of poetry in their magazine; his was the first.

Mr. Cross has been married 54 years. He married Eva ampbell in October of 1899. The couple have three sons and one daughter, all married and all successful in business.

Asked how he would like to spend his remaining years, the 81-year-old who says he can see and hear as well as he ever could, explains he would like to do a little more writing.

"I would like to express my philosophy of life and the moral and spiritual experiences I have had,"

"It pays to be an optimist and look on the bright side of things. Taking a hopeful view has helped me along."

"There is more reason to emphasize the faith side than the doubt side," he says.

"Believe your faith and doubt your doubts. Doubts take you nowhere. Faith will take you somewhere."

"Hey! You see what I see?"

When a lion appeared on a street in Memphis people fled for the doorways, and from behind windows they asked each other "How come?"

Even though they could watch the lion with their own eyes, they still didn't know the story.

It was from their newspapers that they first discovered that Goldie the lioness had slipped away from a downtown circus. She was so bewildered by the fuss she caused, she turned around and went back.

It's exciting to be an eye-witness to any unusual event. But being on the spot is not much better than seeing one or two photographs of the action, or seeing a headline about it, or hearing a brief announcement.

All of these can whet your appetite for news, but they cannot satisfy your hunger for the whole story.

You need the newspaper for that.

● That goes for advertising, too. The brief message that hangs in the air . . . or brief headlines here or there . . . may indeed have a momentary interest.

But the newspaper ad carries the brass-tacks quality, the urgency of the newspaper itself.

Like a news item, the ad can be examined and re-examined. Can be read any time. Anywhere. Can be clipped and carried in a pocketbook.

And just as the newspaper speaks the special language of the town it mirrors, the ads themselves have the same important local quality.

Add to this the fact that the newspaper reaches just about everybody in town, and you know why the newspaper is the nation's most effective advertising medium.

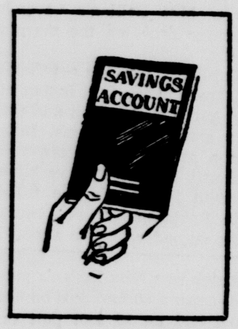

No wonder advertisers—both retail and national—invest more money in newspapers than in any other form of advertising.

The newspaper is always "first with the most"

Lemon Pitches Indians To 5-0 Victory Over Athletics

Easter, Doby Homer; Feller Seeks 4th Straight Today

CLEVELAND (AP) -- Bob Feller, who hasn't won four games in a row since August, 1951, tries today to win a fourth straight and give the Cleveland Indians a sweep of their three-game series with Philadelphia.

Bob Lemon's five-hit, 5-0 shutout of the Athletics last night failed to gain the Tribe any ground in the pennant race. All first - division clubs won.

Lemon's shutout was his 12th victory against eight losses. Two of the five singles he gave were hit in succession by Carmen Mauro and Dave Philley to start the sixth inning, but Eddie Robinson flied and Gus Zernial hit into a double play. Lemon allowed only two runners to reach second, and neither got to third.

Luke Easter's homer, his second of the season and first in the home park, sailed far over the right field fence in the sixth after Bob Avila and Al Rosen had singled. Larry Doby followed with his 17th homer of the season to make the score 5-0.

Easter doubled and came home on George Strickland's double in the second inning for the first run of the game.

Rosen left the game in the seventh with a bruised ankle — the result of a foul tip from his own bat.

Cincinnati Redlegs Edge Phils, 3-2

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The Cincinnati Redlegs last night turned on Philadelphia for a 3-2 victory after losing two close ones to the Phillies.

Harry Perkowski scattered eight hits in squaring his record at seven victories, seven defeats. The heat got to him in the eighth inning, but not before he had doubled and scored what proved to be the winning run. Clyde King held the Phils scoreless.

Perkowski was aided by some splendid defensive playing on the part of his teammates. Rocky Bridges pulled off two amazing plays at second base. He cut off a Philly run in the first inning with a brilliant stop and throw at the expense of Granny Hamner. He made another in the third to rob Eddie Waitkus of a base hit.

Curt Simmons got the Redlegs in order through the first three heats but the Redlegs bunched a double by Bridges and singles by Bobby Adams, Gus Bell and Bob Borkowski for two runs in the fourth.

That made the score 2-1, Cincinnati, the Phils having picked up a run on two doubles after two were out in the first.

The Phils tied the score in the seventh. Hamner tripled to deep right center. Perkowski bore down and made Stan Lopat pop up and Willie Jones ground out, but Connie Ryan singled off Roy McMillan's glove while batting for Dick Kazanski for the second Philadelphia tally.

Perkowski helped his own cause with a double that fell into short left in the top of the eighth. Bridges sacrificed him to third and he trotted home when Adams singled.

Dudley Hanover Wins $5,000 Albany Race

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N. Y. (AP)—Dudley Hanover, extended in a stretch drive, has turned in the fastest mile of the current meeting at Saratoga Raceway.

The pacing star from the Hayes Fair Acres Stable at Duquoin, Ill., nipped Direct Rhythm by a head last night to win the $5,000 Albany free-for-all, a feature of the Grand Circuit card.

Driven by Billy Schue, the son of Billy Direct was clocked in 2:01, just four fifths of a second off the track record set last year by Good Time. Prince Adios finished third in the field of five.

OTTAWA (AP)—Big John Kissel intends to play football with the Ottawa Rough Riders of the Big Four and not Cleveland of the NFL.

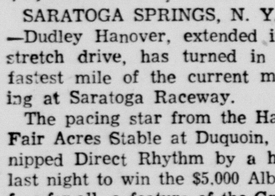

Paul Brown, Coach of the Cleveland Browns, said yesterday Kissell had signed to play with his club and couldn't understand the switch. But Kissel, 250-pound tackle, told reporters:

"I've really got nothing to say. I've got nothing against Mr. Brown and the Cleveland club. They always treated me well. That's all. I don't want to be the center of any trouble, but that's the way it is. I'm here — and I intend to stay."

Washingtonville Beaver Creek Sportsmen Plan Completion Of New Clubhouse By Fall

The Beaver Creek Sportsman's Club of Washingtonville, 250 members strong and still growing, has begun work on a new clubhouse to keep pace with the expanding organization's activities.

Ground has been broken for the clubhouse which will be of concrete blocks. The structure will be "L" shaped, with a 52 x 22 foot meeting room and a 14 x 14 foot kitchen.

The building will be located on club property, one-fourth mile north of Washingtonville on the Canfield-Washingtonville Road.

The site is ideal for a sportsmen's club with adequate land for a shooting range and a large beaver dam on the southwest corner of the plot.

Plans call for completion of the building by early fall, with members doing most of the work.

The club was organized in the autumn of 1946 and held its first regular meeting March 20, 1947. The club was incorporated that year and also in the same year obtained a 20-year lease on seven-acre Liberty Lake.

The lake has been well stocked with bass and bluegill and many fine catches have been made in the past year.

The club's $2 annual membership fee is used to promote the many projects of the organization, including fox hunts, turkey and chicken shoots, raising and releasing 1,000 pheasants, raising and releasing 20 raccoons, planting 1,200 pine trees, planting 300 multiflora rose bushes, purchase of a 16 mm sound movie projector, casting contest, turtle, rabbit pie, coon, and fish dinners, and stocking the lake.

In addition, many conservation projects have been completed with the cooperation of local and district conservation agents.

Present officers of the club are Pete Gwynne, president, Merle Linn, vice president, William Grim, secretary, William Jones, treasurer, and Albert Spear, Al Weikart, and Lester Spear, trustees.

The club meets the second Thursday of every month above the I. G.A. store in Washingtonville pending completion of the new club. Membership is open to all district sportsmen.

Louisville, Kansas City Move Up In Association

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Third-place Louisville and fourth-place Kansas City moved up in the American Association last night with victories over the league's top dogs.

The Colonels dropped runnerup Toledo 7-0 as Russ Kemmerer allowed only five hits and struck out 10.

Kansas City beat the leading Indianapolis Indians 5-4, scoring the winning run in the last inning when Bud Daley, Indian rookie, walked Forest Smith with the bases loaded. Charleston at St. Paul and Columbus at Minneapolis were postponed by rain.

Mehl of Middletown has been named head football coach at Big Walnut High School at nearby Sunbury. He will assist in basketball. He succeeds Dwight Black.

Claire Doran Wins 3rd Ohio Women's Tourney

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—Claire Doran of Cleveland, who won her third Ohio Women's golf championship yesterday, plans to continue an amateur.

After her 4 and 3 victory over Carol Diringer of Tiffin in the finals at the Dayton Country Club, she said she plans to rest a few days and then prepare for the Women's Western Amateur tournament. It starts July 27 at Cincinnati.

It was the second straight time Miss Doran has defeated Miss Diringer in the finals.

The main difference in yesterday's match was Miss Doran's putting. She sank a 60 foot putt on the 19th hole and an 18 foot putt on the 21st.

Hall Returns As Coach Of Columbiana Cagers

Jim Hall, who was both football and basketball coach at Columbiana High School until two years ago when he was called up by the Air Force reserves, will once again coach basketball there during the '53-'54 season.

Rich Berryman, who handled the Clippers last season, will coach football this fall at Columbiana. Homer Pyle coached football there last year. Berryman will be assistant basketball coach and Hall, assistant football coach.

Yanks Beat St. Louis, 6-4; Chicago Whips Senators, 4-1

By BEN PHLEGAR
Associated Press Sports Writer

By tomorrow night the American League may find itself with a tighter pennant race than the National League.

The New York Yankees, who once acted as if they were going to clinch the flag by the Fourth of July, will still be ahead but their margin could be as minute as a single game.

Brooklyn, on the other hand, stands a chance of ending the weekend as much as six games in front in the senior circuit.

The Yankees, definitely still considerably below their early season form, finish a series with St. Louis today and then invade Chicago for a doubleheader with the never-say-die White Sox. New York is nursing a four game lead. Both the Yanks and the Sox, who play Washington, should win today, but a pair of Chicago victories tomorrow would not be surprising. If it goes that way, New York will lead by only two games.

Brooklyn has won seven in a row from St. Louis at Ebbets Field this season and could well make it eight today in the windup of a four game set. Then comes a pair with Cincinnati tomorrow that the Dodgers should win. Milwaukee's second place Braves, now three games back, face their jinx team, the Pittsburgh Pirates today, and then have to play two tomorrow with the revitalized New York Giants. A combination of three Brooklyn victories and three Milwaukee defeats would fatten the Dodgers' lead to six games.

All of the first division teams in the American League won last night. The Yankees beat St. Louis 6-4 with the help of a triple play and four double plays. Chicago downed Washington 4-1 on Virgil Trucks' three-hit pitching. Bob Lemon threw a five-hit shutout for Cleveland against Philadelphia, winning 5-0, and Boston edged Detroit 3-2.

The Dodgers trounced St. Louis twice 14-0 and 7-4. Mliwaukee finally beat the Pirates 8-2 after losing five straight to them. Cincinnati ended Philadelphia's seven-game winning streak with a 3-2 decision. The Giants and the Chicago Cubs had the night off.

Casey Stengel gambled on his new lefthander from Kansas City, Art Schallock, against the lowly Browns, but he didn't gamble long. The first time the southpaw got in trouble Casey yanked him in favor of veteran Allie Reynolds, even though the youngster had a 4-0 lead. Reynolds was below par and Johnny Sain finally fniished up after the Browns scored three runs in the ninth.

The galloping White Sox scored their 28th victory in their last 34 games with Trucks winning his sixth straight.

Successive home runs by Luke Easter, with two on, and Larry Doby helped Lemon win his 12th game against eight losses for Cleveland.

Detroit knocked out three Boston pitchers in the last three innings but fell a run short of beating the Red Sox. Milt Bolling's seventh inning homer provided the margin of victory.

The Cardinals' pitching and fielding fell apart in the first inning of the first game at Brooklyn and the Dodgers scored seven runs. Billy Cox hit a grand slam home run in the fourth and Gil Hodges hit a homer with two on in the fifth.

Jackie Robinson hit two home runs, the second with two aboard, to wrap up the second game for Carl Erskine.

Warren Saphn stopped the Pirates on four hits for his 12th triumph.

Cincinnati came from behind to edge the Phillies with pitcher Harry Perkowski scoring the winning run in the eighth inning. The loss was the sixth for Curt Simmons who has won eight.

Native Dancer Favored In Arlington Race

By JERRY LISKA

CHICAGO (AP) — Native Dancer, the whizzing gray who already has earned his first half million, today runs at eight rivals, including the tenacious Jamie K, in racing's richest 3-year-old event, the $155,000 Arlington Classic.

Likely to go postward a 3-5 favorite, Alfred G. Vanderbilt's Dancer was expected to win his 16th victory in 17 starts before a shower-threatened crowd of 40,000 at Arlington Park.

The possibility of an "off" track for the nationally televised and broadcast (CBS) mile event failed to lessen the prohibitive favoritism of the powerful Dancer .

Native Dancer ran on a wet track only once in his career. That was last Aug. 16 when he won the Saratoga Special by three and one half lengths on a sloppy strip.

Eric Guerin again will be astride the Dancer, whose only defeat was by a head in the Kentucky Derby to Dark Star, retired to stud Friday.

The Dancer will carry 126 pounds, six more than the rest of the field. The weight-pull is regarded as significant by the handlers of Jim Norris' Jamie K, beaten by Native Dancer by only a neck in both the Preakness and Belmont Stakes.

Jamie K. will be ridden by Eddie Arcaro, who couldn't catch Guerin in the Preakness and Belmont.

A heavy track would not bother Jamie K. and it would increase the chances of Royal Bay Gem, the stretch-running colt owned by Eugene Constantin Jr. of Dallas, Tex.

The classic has been a jinx for some of the greatest thoroughbreds, beginning with the first running in 1929 when Blue Larkspur defeated Clyde Van Dusen, the Kentucky Derby winner.

Heavy going might lessen the chances of Perne L. Grissom's Van Crosby, a speedster. The field is rounded out by Tom M. Daniel's Ace Destroyer, Dixiana's Berseem, Harry N. Eads' Sid Mango, Mrs. O. S. Deming's Thaxter and E. P. Taylor's Navy Page.

Native Dancer, by winning any part of the classic money—$98,475 for first, $30,000 for second, $15,000 for third and $10,000 for fourth—will pass Whirlaway to become the fifth leading money-winner in racing history. Whirlaway retired with $561,161.

The Dancer currently has total earnings of $560,845.

Signs With Packers

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP) — John Martinkovic, the Green Bay Packers' defensive scoring ace who made two touchdowns last season by recovering blocked punts, today signed for the 1953 season.

The 235-pound end from Hamilton, Ohio, is the 55th player signed by the Packers for the coming campaign.

Eljer Co. Defeated By Fisher News

A new pitching mound, slightly higher than the required six-inch mound, was placed in use for the first time at Centennial Park Friday night, causing some erratic Major League hurlers.

Fisher News players won the single game played last night, defeating Eljer Co., 7-5.

Fisher News scored four runs in the first inning and Eljer retaliated with three in the second. For the next two innings both pitchers settled down and hurled like veterans, allowing no runs to cross the plate.

Eljer scored two runs in its half of the fifth and Fisher News got three runs in its half of that inning to clinch the game.

Rottenborn, Fisher News hurler, allowed four hits, struck out nine and walked five. Altomare was the batting star with three hits.

Eljer's pitcher, Beal, gave up nine hits, walked five and struck out six. Batting stars for Eljer were Shepherd and Jones, each of whom knocked out a double.

The game was called because of rain in the last half of the sixth inning, and the score reverted back to the completed fifth inning.

THEY'LL EAT FISH FOR A WEEK—An all-day fishing outing at Lake Erie Wednesday proved a prolific undertaking for the three Salem young men shown above. George Gubas, 18, Jim Gow, 17, and Don Abe, 17, accompanied by Chet Gow, hauled 43 pike and bass out of the lake while trolling from a cabin cruiser. The heaviest fish caught weighed approximately eight pounds.

Salem Men Return From Fishing Trips To Sections Of Canada

Back from a two-week fishing trip at Lake Wasack in the Hudson Bay area in Canada are eight Salem residents and a Canton man.

The Salem men, Andy Hodge, Gus Bonfert, Dr. Frank Mangus, Mike Kroner, Pete Olsen, Frank Early, John Liebhart and Mike Hutter, accompanied by Gene Tanner of Canton, drove 600 miles to Canada where they left their cars. The group then trekked on foot carrying their canoes, and crossed three other lakes before reaching their destination, an island in Lake Wasack.

The island on which the men camped is uninhabited, and provisions for food had to be made beforehand. This was the sixth year back for Andy Hodge and he served as guide for the party. No outside guide was hired by the group.

While the party was there the weather was suitable for fairly good fishing with not too much rain. The party's catch consisted mostly of pickerel and bass, averaging six pounds in weight. In other years the party caught 20-pound lake trout and large Northern pike. All the while they were there the men saw only three other fishing parties.

Also just back from a fishing trip to Canada are Jim Schaeffer, Pete Stratton, Bob Coy, his son, Bob, Jr., and Bob Schaeffer and his son.

The group went to Angliers in Quebec for four days of fishing The men didn't have too much luck on the trip. The weather was cold and windy and even the old timers complained of the bad fishing. Angliers is about 700 miles from Salem, 150 miles north of North Bay.

Dr. W. F. Stevenson and his wife also have been fishing in Canada and are expected back soon.

Kell's AL Batting Lead Built In Triumph Over Aches, Pains

By JACK HAND
(For Gayle Talbot)

NEW YORK (AP)—If George Kell wins the American League batting championship, as well he might, it will be a triumph of will power over aches and pains.

There are days when Kell fears he won't be able to drag himself out of bed in the morning, let alone put on his Boston uniform to play third base. Still he has played more than three quarters of the Red Sox games and is leading the league in hitting.

Doctors tell George it's simply a case of too much bending, sliding and tumbling for his spinal disc. They say it's similar to the trouble that forced Bobby Boerr into retirement and sent Charlie Keller to the hospital for an operation.

"I don't want any operation, if I can help it," Kell said the other day. "I'm sure my back will be all right for ordinary everyday life with the proper rest. It's just the bending I have to do in baseball."

In mid-May Kell, only 31, thought seriously of hanging up. In the chill, damp days this spring, he had the miseries. His boss, Manager Lou Boudreau, told him to forget playing and not even show up for a few days.

Kell tried left field when he returned to the lineup. It worked fine. He never played the outfield but there were days when he was able to get in the lineup in left field when he wouldn't have been able to play third base.

But the club needed George back at third so he returned to his old job. When the mercury hit the 90s he smiled. The old cricks in the back melted away. It's the night games on cool evenings and the rainy days that bother him most.

When Kell first came up to the majors, out of Swifton, Ark., he was a school teacher, in the off season, trying to make both ends meet on a rookie's skimpy salary. Later the Philadelphia A's traded him to Detroit. He went to Boston last summer.

School teaching is not for Kell any more. He prospered in baseball at a healthy wage scale in Detroit and Boston. He has a going cotton and cattle farm in Arkansas. It will be back to the farm when his playing days are over. Eventually he'd like to come back to baseball as a coach—or maybe manager—but first a year off to rest that back.

This sounds like a farewell address but it isn't that at all. Kell wants to win the batting championship this year more than anything else in his career. He thinks he can do it—if the back lets him.

"If I can only get hot for a few weeks I think I can win it," he said. "But that goes for Mickey Mantle, too. Anybody can win it. I thing about .335 ought to win."

When Kell won the championship with .343 in 1949, beating men like Ted Williams and Joe DiMaggio, some said it was a fluke. If he wins this one, bad back and all, he should rate the most valuable player award.

HIGH SCHOOL PICKS COACH

MARTINS FERRY, Ohio (AP) — Herbert Johnson, graduate of Bethany College, W. Va., has been named all-sports coach at Mount Pleasant High School in Jefferson County, it was announced here yesterday.

Branch Rickey, general manager of the Pittsburgh Pirates, describes first baseman Preston Ward as "the key man" in the deal which sent Ralph Kiner to the Chicago Cubs.

Hornsby Gives Phils Batting Pointers

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Cincinnati Redlegs' Manager Rogers Hornsby held an impromptu baseball batting "school" here last night—at the request of the rival Philadelphia Phillies.

The Phillies proved poor pupils, however, leaving seven men on base as the Redlegs snapped their seven-game winning streak, 3-2.

The third-place Phillies asked Hornsby, whose club is in sixth place (11 games behind the Phils), to give them some batting pointers.

Hornsby's advice to the hitters: "Stand deep in the box. You get a longer look at the ball that way. "Try to hit the ball through the middle. That's how you get most of your power meeting the ball.

"You've got to have confidence. Never let the pitcher think you're afraid of him; make him afraid of you."

Hornsby was National League batting champion from 1920 to 1925 with St. Louis and in 1928 with Boston.

Mal Whitfield Predicts He'll Break 10 Records

ABO, Finland (AP)—Mal Whitfield, Olympic 800-meter champion who earlier in the year predicted he would better 10 world and American records during 1953, now has four to his credit.

He made it No. 4, yesterday with a clocking of one minute, 48.6 seconds for 880 yards. The old mark of 1:49.2 was set by Sidney Wooderson of England in 1938 and matched by Whitfield in 1950.

Wes Santee, Kansas' great miler, was second in 1:48.9.

Stranahan Honeymoons Following Marriage

CHICAGO (AP)—Frank Stranahan, the noted amateur golfer from Toledo, was on a brief honeymoon today following his marriage yesterday to Ann Williams of Dallas, Tex.

Stranahan will return to Chicago to compete in the All-American and "World" golf tournaments opening July 27 at Tam O'Shanter.

Questions, Answers

Q—Who controlled the Louisiana Territory at the time of its purchase by the United States?

A—The Americans did not take over from the French but from the Spanish, who remained as governors after they re-ceded the territory to France. It was the Spanish flag which was lowered at New Orleans before the United States flag went up.

Q—When was Westminster Hall in London built?

A—In 1099.

Dulles Warns U.S. To Fight On In Korea If Reds Reject Truce

WASHINGTON (AP)—Grim United States concern over Communist conduct in the truce negotiations was mirrored today in official word that the Allies must fight on in Korea if the Reds reject an "honorable peace."

With the negotiations at a critical stage—indeed, recessed again at Communist request until tonight (midnight EST)—Secretary of State told the nation and the world last night:

"We are not suppliants. We are ready for honorable peace. But if the Communists want war, we must be ready for that, too."

Dulles denounced as absurd Red insistence on "guarantees" by the United Nations Command that Syngman Rhee's South Korean government would abide by the truce terms. This has been the apparent cause of Communist refusal to bring the talks to a successful conclusion.

Dulles in effect questioned the Reds' good faith:

"The proposed armistice does not guarantee the future conduct of any government. I wish that someone would guarantee the future good conduct of the Communist regime of China.

"But President Rhee has given explicit assurance that he will not obstruct in any manner the implementation of the proposed armistice."

Dulles spoke over nationwide radio and television networks and what he said was also broadcast throughout the world by the Voice of America.

With him on the program was Asst. Secretary of State Walter S. Robertson, who returned Wednesday from Korea where he obtained from Rhee a promise to cooperate with the proposed armistice.

Robertson, introduced by Dulles and praised for a "fine job diplomacy," said he was "confident of President Rhee's sincerity and of his intention to carry out in good faith his assurances to me."

Robertson appealed for an end to such doubt.

He said Rhee had been afraid that the Reds might use a political conference, which would follow an armistice, as a cover to infiltrate South Korea and bombard it with hostile propaganda. Rhee and he agreed, Robertson said, that, if the Reds would break faith at such a conference, "We would try to end the conference as a sham and a hostile trick."

Dr. You Chan Yang, South Korea's ambassador to the United States, said last night his country plans to resume the war if a political conference fails within 180 days after a cease fire to agree to unification of Korea.

But Yang, talking to reporters in San Francisco, declined to say whether the 180-day truce limit was a condition agreed to in the Rhee-Robertson talks.

Air Force Loses Budget Cut Fight

Senate Group Upholds $5 Billion Slash

WASHINGTON (AP)—Air Force enthusiasts appeared today to have lost their congressional fight to recover some of the more than five billion dollars slashed from new funds by the Eisenhower administration.

Late yesterday the Senate Appropriations Committee approved a $34,511,302,000 bill to supply funds for the Air Force, Army and Navy for the fiscal year which began July 1.

This was some 77 million dollars more than voted by the House, but it included none of the more than five billions slashed from the Air Force budget of former President Truman by Secretary of Defense Wilson with President Eisenhower's backing.

The money bill, biggest before Congress, still is subject to Senate approval. A floor battle was promised by Senators Russell (D-Ga), Maybank (D-SC) and other Democrats.

Unless they convert a considerable group of Republican senators not on the appropriations committee, they appeared to be facing certain defeat.

The uproar over Air Force cutbacks this session was touched off, not only by the Eisenhower administration's 5 billion-dollar slash in new funds, but also by its decision to lower the goal from 143 to 120 wings of from 30 to 75 planes.

Senators Maybank and Hayden (D-Ariz) made two efforts within the committee to add 400 millions and 50 millions to the Air Force funds. They were beaten 17-9 and 16-9, with all Republicans and three Democrats—Byrd and Robertson of Virginia and Ellender of Louisiana—voting "No."

Sen. Ferguson (R-Mich) floor manager for the bill, later told reporters the bill now contains all the money "the President says he needs for the coming year, and that means for airplanes and everything else."

Ferguson predicted the Air Force would "get more combat planes under this budget than under the budget proposed by former President Truman."

As the bill passed the House it not only upheld the reduced Eisenhower budget but clipped another billion and a half for it.

The Senate committee restored parts of the reductions, as requested by Wilson, through increases of some 327 millions, of which the Air Force would get about 20 millions. But it offset this increase by eliminating 250 millions—halfe of the 500 million voted by the House—for a pool of defense machine tools requested by Wilson.

This was the only decrease below the House by the Senate group. It may have been a strategic move for use later in the horse-trading conference with the House to harmonize differences.

As the bill reached the Senate, it contained more than 11¼ billions of new funds for the Air Force, about 9½ billions for the Navy and Marines, more than 13 billions for the Army and 769 millions for the Office of the Secretary of Defense.

This still was more than a billion below the Eisenhower-Wilson requests.

Miss Universe

of her sister contestants and her victory was well received by a capacity crowd of 3,800 attending the final event of the 4-day pageant.

At her coronation ball tonight, Miss Universe will receive a minimum 6-month contract with Universal-International Studio, a British sports car, an expensive wristwatch and other jewelry. She got a 4-foot gold-plated trophy last night.

The runners-up received smaller trophies. But all except Miss United States had a trace of tears in their eyes. The movie contracts they will get should assuage the grief.

Miss Universe wants a movie career "above all else," she said. Her outstanding qualifications are a beautiful profile, soft gray-blue eyes and wavy brown hair. Just barely 5 feet 6 inches tall, she weighs 125 pounds. She has a 22-inch waist, with bust and hip measurements of 33 and 35 inches.

Judges indicated the point score was close among the first three contestants, with Miss United States piling up points on a superior figure and Miss Japan's charm also a major factor.

The 5 finalists were chosen from a field of 16 semifinalists after rigorous competition in evening gowns and swim suits. Each semifinalist also spoke briefly in a test of poise and personality.

Turkey's Ayten Akyol and Panama's Emita Arosemena, both highly rated by contestants and close observers, fell in the semifinal test.

First of the 26 international candidates to be eliminated were Misses Alaska, Belgium, Finland, Greece, Hawaii, Philippines, Puerto Rico, Sweden, Switzerland and Venezuela.

Debt

politically to the Eisenhower administration, officials insist it would not indicate a debt burden dangerous to the economy.

The ceiling was 300 billion dollars during the war, when national income and national production were considerably lower than now. The limit was reduced by Congress to 275 billion in 1946. The debt reached a postwar low of 251 billion in April, 1949. Then it began rising again.

Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey issued a statement last night pinning responsibility on the Truman administration.

The debt, he said, "points up the situation which the spending programs of the past few years have produced." These programs, he said, caused the fiscal 1953 deficit of $9,389,000,000 which he announced on July 1.

"This administration is determined to get government spending under control so that this trend of increasing deficits and increasing public debt will be checked," Humphrey said.

He said the administration already has cut 8½ billion dollars from the $72,900,000,000 in appropriations proposed by former President Truman last January.

Crash

ran into some unexplained difficulty and plunged to the ground.

Alex Allen, 15, dashed out of his farm home when he saw "a ball of flame about 150 yards long.

"Then the barn caught on fire and a boy came walking up to me, his clothes were burning all over and he asked me to pull off his shoes and clothes," he said.

"A neighbor and I put a blanket over the boy and carried him to the side of the house. I got some lard and rubbed it all over him. Then another man came up, with his clothes afire."

There were 40 Naval Reservists and six Marine crewmen aboard the R4Q Fairchild Packet plane—Marine version of the C119 Flying Boxcar—which is regularly attached to the 2nd Marine Air Wing based at Cherry Point, N. C.

All the reservists were college students, in their sophomore and junior years and from many states.

As part of their reserve work they are required to take six weeks summer training at naval installations in Corpus Christi and Norfolk.

Altogether, 800 reservists are taking part in this summer's program, half of them at Corpus Christi and half at Norfolk.

At the end of three weeks, the 400 at Norfolk and 400 at Corpus Christi swap bases for the final three weeks.

The group which had stopped at Whiting was half of the 400 being flown to Norfolk.

Rear Adm. J. P. Whitney, chief of Naval Air basic training, appointed a special board to investigate the crash.

The Navy public information officer at Pensacola said that the names of the survivors and the victims will be released about 1 p.m. (EST).

Ohio Wheat Stored In Liberty Ships

WASHINGTON (AP)—Ohio wheat—seven to eight million bushels of it—has been stored in dozens of Liberty ships anchored in the Hudson River, just 30 miles above New York City.

The Production and Marketing Administration of the Department of Agriculture said today the grain, all from last year's crop, has just about all been moved out of Ohio elevators.

This is what Ohio farmers decided to let the government have, rather than repaying the loans they took on it and selling it on the open market.

The Liberty ships are in the maritime "mothball fleet" from the last war.

This season the wheat crop has been far bigger and the price per bushel even lower—around $.63 on the free market in Ohio.

Some Ohio farmers are selling it at this price. But PMA said many of them are storing it and getting the loan rate of about $2.27.

Bricker List To Be Used For PMA Heads

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Department of Agriculture was reported today to have promised to pick members of the Ohio Production and Marketing Administration committee from a list submitted by Sen. Bricker (R—Ohio).

Dave Baumhart, assistant chairman of the Republican National Committee, said he had received that assurance from a PMA spokesman.

WAF Killed, 5 Hurt In Auto Accident

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — A WAF was killed and five persons—including Airman Louis H. Barnhouse, 21, of Albany (Athens County), Ohio — were injured in an auto accident yesterday near Folsom Prison, 20 miles east of Sacramento.

Barnhouse was taken to Travis Air Force Base Hospital, 40 miles west of Sacramento, for emergency surgery.

The dead girl was Gladys A. Barend, 20, of New York City.

Their convertible crashed into a power pole. All were stationed at nearby McClellan Air Force Base.

Columbus Bus Strike Enters Third Day

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Columbus bus strike went into its third day today, with no hope apparent for a quick settlement.

City officials planned talks with Cincinnati and Detroit bus firms, after talks with the Columbus Transit Co. broke down.

This is the three-way deadlock facing the capital city's 170,000 bus riders:

1. Drivers, mechanics and maintenance men of the CIO Transport Workers Union won't go back to work unless they get a wage raise.

2. The transit company won't grant the wage raise unless the city approves a fare increase.

3. The city won't approve a fare increase big enough to satisfy the company.

So, the citizens are walking, hitching rides or forming car pools to get to work.

Mayor Robert T. Oestreicher said he telegraphed transit firms in 12 other cities and asked if they were interested in taking over the Columbus franchise.

Taft To Resume Duties In January

NEW YORK (AP)—Sen. Robert A. Taft expects to resume his duties as majority leader at next January's meeting of Congress.

The daily bulletin from New York Hospital, where the Ohio Republican is under treatment for a hip ailment, contained the announcement today.

"Sen. Taft's condition is good," the bulletin said. "Usual progress is being made and stitches will be removed sometime next week. Sen. Taft fully expects to resume public duty in Washington when Congress convenes in January."

The hospital report yesterday disclosed Taft did not intend to resume activities during the present congressional session, expected to wind up in August.

Last week, the senator underwent an exploratory abdominal operation in connection with his hip condition.

Damascus

The Eight Jokers Club enjoyed a get-together at Sevakeen Lake Wednesday evening, with a casserole supper. This was followed by attending a movie in Salem.

It was decided to omit a meeting in August. Mrs. Robert Risbeck will entertain the group Sept. 9.

Mrs. Alice Bye and Mrs. Unity Shreve in company with Mrs. Dewey Israel of Beloit were entertained at dinner Thursday by Mrs. Rhea Gilbert of Alliance.

Al White of Mundelein, Ill., spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Fred Chambers and daughter.

Mrs. L. L. McCluggage and Mrs. Joe Rich of Salem called on Mrs. C. E. Stanley Wednesday.

Mrs. Fred Israel entertained the Friendship Circle of the Methodist Church at her home Wednesday evening. A picnic supper was served on the lawn.

Mrs. C. G. Long, Mrs. Herold Brown and Mrs. G. R. Morton were awarded prizes in the games, and the door prize was won by Mrs. Herold Brown. It was decided to omit the August meeting.

Lisbon School Board Hires Music Instructor

LISBON — The Lisbon Board of Education at a meeting Friday night in the high school hired a high school music instructor, subject to his acceptance of the contract.

The board designated the Firestone Bank as its official repository and adopted a list of textbooks recommended for the schools by V. J. Ullman, superintendent. It also gave the superintendent authority to hire a new elementary teacher.

No action was taken by the board on the purchase of a new 59-passenger school bus. The members voted to consider bids for the purchase of either a 59 or 53-passenger bus at its next meeting.
